FASTS AND GROWS FAT.

Peculiar Case of a Prisoner in More Peculiar Jail.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The county jail here contains a man who without eating anything grows fatter day by day. According to his statement no food has passed his lips for twenty-one days, yet he is robust and apparently plumper than when he en-and apparently plumper than when he entered the prison.

The man is Hebrara. W. Andrews, a veterinary surgeor from Vermont. He is fifty years old, and apparently a man of education, though undoubtedly a crank.

"I have eaten nothing since July 22," he says. "I do this as a protest because I am imprisoned for a crime I did not commit. My fast is a call to the Lord to come to my aid. He has not come although the thing

At this remark Andrews made some inysterious passes in the air.

"Whenever I am in trouble I fast," he resumed. "I did it once for nine, once for eleven, and again for twenty-three days, I never feel any ill effects from fasting.

"The meat packers and the restaurant men hate me, but this is simply a question of self-interest. The sheriff, who is paid a per diem allowance for my keep, says I a per diem allowance for my keep, says I am one of the finest fellows he ever met.

pinch of salt or sugar to it."

The prime physician, Dr. F. W. Me Namara, expresses doubt as to the man' Namara, expresses doubt as to the man's fasting. He believes food is smuggled to his cell somehow. When asked how this was possible in a well managed jail he excaimed: "Why, man alive, you could smuggle a locomotive into this prison. The prisoners come and go as they like.

nours without attracting attention.

"We lost eight prisoners last week. Sometimes in the cold weather we count the inmates and find fifty more than we should have. They are tramps who sneak in to be where it is warm. You can't guard against such things—at least I can't."

AN AUTOMOBILE SUIT.

McGuire Claims Dr. Vroom's Horseless Vehicle Killed His Wife.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Owners and operators of horseless carriages will be much interested in the first criminal suit in this country arising from a fatal col i sion between a locomobile and a horse and wagon. Indeed, everyone will be interested—those who drive horses and those who walk-for it's getting to be difficult to dodge all the horseless carriages nowadays.

John McGuire, an Erie Railroad conductor living at Hackensack, declared yesterday he will go before the next grand jury and ask that Dr. Vroom, of Ridgewood, te indicted for having cause of the death of McGuire's wife a short time ago. Dr. Vroom was driving his locomobil, when it collided with Mrs. McGuire's carriage, which she was driving. Mrs. McGuire was hart so badly she died.
